1.6: VARIANCES AND EXCEPTIONS (FROM SUBDIVISION REGULATIONS)

1. General: Where the Regional Planning Commission finds that extraordinary hardships or practical difficulties may result from strict compliance with these regulations and/or the purposes of these regulations may be served to a greater extent by an alternative proposal, it may approve variances to these subdivision regulations so that substantial justice may be done and the public interest secured, provided that such variances shall not have the effect of nullifying the intent and purpose of these regulations, and further provided that the Regional Planning Commission shall not approve variances unless it shall make findings based upon the evidence presented to it in each specific case that:
  - A. The granting of the variance will not be detrimental to the public health, safety, or welfare or injurious to other property in the area where the proposed variance is located, and;
  - B. The conditions upon which the request for the variance is based are unique to the property for which the variance is sought and are not applicable generally to other property, and;
  - C. Because of the particular physical surroundings, shape or topographical conditions of the specific property involved, a particular hardship to the owner would result as distinguished from a mere inconvenience if the strict letter of these regulations are carried out, and;
  - D. The variance will not in any manner vary the provisions of the City Ordinances and/or County Resolutions or other adopted facility plans.
2. Conditions: In approving variances, the Regional Planning Commission may require such conditions as will in its judgment, secure substantially the objectives of the standards or requirements of these regulations.
3. Procedure: A petition for any such variance shall be submitted in writing by the subdivider at the time when the preliminary plat is filed for the consideration of the Regional Planning Commission. The petition shall state fully the grounds for the application and all of the facts relied upon by the petitioner.
